

Biography

Ron Hoppock is a U S Business Development Senior Manager for Navy Programs and the Manager of Raytheon's Norfolk-Hampton Field office, a Corporate Business Development office in Hampton, VA which provides support to all of the Raytheon business units and their product lines. In his position, Ron is responsible for strategy, building customer relationships, and seeking new business for Raytheon's Navy programs in the Hampton Roads area.

Prior to assuming his current position, he was the Site Manager of the Raytheon NAS Oceana, VA Field Office, home of the Navy's East Coast Carrier Based Tactical Aircraft (F/A-18). He was responsible for the daily integration of Raytheon programs that support these deploying squadrons.

Before joining Raytheon, Ron was a Carrier Based Naval Aviator flying numerous aircraft to include the F/A-18 and F-14. He made numerous deployments to the Mediterranean Sea and Arabian Gulf to include deployments in support of Desert Shield and Desert Storm where he commanded an F/A-18 squadron. He also had numerous shore tours to include a tour at China Lake, CA testing and evaluating the latest Naval Aviation weapons and the F/A-18 Night Attack aircraft. He also completed a tour as the Assistant Chief of Staff for Training and Readiness on the Staff of Commander, Naval Air Forces US Atlantic Fleet.

Ron received a Bachelor of Science degree in Electrical Engineering from The University of Kansas, a Master of Science Degree in General Business from Salve Regina College and a Master of Science degree in Management from the US Naval War College.

Raytheon Company, with 2008 sales of $23.2 billion, is a technology and innovation leader specializing in defense, homeland security and other government markets throughout the world. With a history of innovation spanning 87 years, Raytheon provides state-of-the-art electronics, mission systems integration and other capabilities in the areas of sensing; effects; and command, control, communications and intelligence systems, as well as a broad range of mission support services. With headquarters in Waltham, Massachusetts, Raytheon employs 73,000 people worldwide.