Receiving a 2016 scholarship award from Wings Over America is a true blessing in my life. Not only does this help me financially pay for tuition costs, but I am able to take more classes with the money I save. I would like to take an extra leadership and a global studies class with the money I would have used towards my tuition. These courses will better prepare me for my future in strategic communication and global studies as a humanitarian aid journalist. I am beyond thankful for the Wings Over America Foundation and the work they do to help military families. It means so much to me that citizens are not only supporting troops, but also military families. The opportunities given to me because of this scholarship will have a large impact on my life and help me succeed in my future where I fully intend to give back to the community, just as Wings Over America has done for me.
