After applying to several scholarships and receiving nothing I felt disheartened. With all my parents provide for me I want to give back. Of course, a major way to give back to them is to ease the financial burden of my education by finding a way to pay for it. I am thankful for receiving the Wings Over America Scholarship because it gives me a chance to contribute in a way I am capable of. For both my parents, who work daily to provide for my brother and me, I want nothing more than to help them. College will be a long path for me, especially with lofty goals of attending medical school. I owe it to them to do whatever I can to pay for it. I am grateful for the opportunities I have. I love them, and earning scholarships can help me begin to give back.
