

Maritime Patrol Association Scholar

Anna Shaarda

McBain, MI

Seattle Pacific University

Year: Sophomore

Major: Psychology

Activities:

- Intramural Soccer and Volleyball
- College Concert Choir, HS Performance Choir
- Volunteer: Child Life Department. Seattle Children's Hospital and Seattle Cancer Hospital
- Summer & Year-Round Employment: Nanny for three families

I am tremendously grateful for the WOASF and Maritime Patrol Association for their contribution toward my educational journey. It means a lot to me that the organization recognizes the effort and passion that I pour into both my education and pursuing the career that I have selected. Studying psychology and applying it to the world around me, especially the volunteer work that I currently do within the local hospitals is so fulfilling and exciting, and I cannot wait to pursue a future career in this line of work. I was very happy and appreciative to learn that I was selected as the recipient of this scholarship and it is immensely encouraging to me to have the support that I do. I am beyond excited about this chapter of life that I am in, but I would not be able to pursue this passion without the support that I have found and been given from my family, friends and institutions, including the WOASF and MPA.