This renewable scholarship has meant so much to my family and me. College is quite the expensive investment, and a burden that no family really looks forward to dealing with. However, every time my family and I sit down to look over finances, seeing this scholarship never fails to make me smile. This generous scholarship also serves as a physical and tangible representation of all the hard work that I have put into my academics in high school as well as my first year in college. Especially since I plan of pursuing graduate school, saving money now will serve me greatly in the long run as I continue to pursue my education. I will be forever grateful for the Wings Over America organization for their generous gift of a scholarship for next few years to come.
