

Lockheed Martin Aeronautics Scholar

Jacob Newlund

Fort Worth, TX

Texas A&M University

2021-2022: Freshman

Major: Aerospace Engineering

Being the recipient of this scholarship means a huge amount to me, but the significance is not only that college will be more affordable, but it also means that I could attend graduate school as well. Through my father's service and foresight, I can pay off the tuition alone for five years of college. As my family will have three college students enrolled simultaneously, going to school past what would be strictly necessary for our budget would have been impossible, as room and board costs are already very demanding of money. Through this generous scholarship, I can knock down the cost of my first year of college enough that I can preserve my existing benefits, which will allow me to get six years of college education; enough to attend graduate school. Essentially, the Wings Over America Scholarship Foundation has allowed me to get a master's degree and more importantly an extremely comprehensive education through this scholarship. That is what the scholarship means for me, and I cannot thank all of you enough for granting me the opportunity to secure a better future.