

John Griffing
Aerospace Consultant

John Griffing retired in 2010 as the Northrop Grumman Corporate Lead Executive for the Navy and Marine Corps in the Hampton Roads, Virginia, region.

In this capacity, Mr. Griffing led a customer-focused business approach for Northrop Grumman activities in Hampton Roads. In addition, he served as the principal corporate point of contact for all Northrop Grumman business in the region and provided communication, leadership and coordination between the company's employees and customers in the area.

Mr. Griffing had a 46-year history with Northrop Grumman. Prior to assuming the Corporate Lead Executive position he served as the Business Development Manager for the Integrated Systems sector in Hampton Roads. Much of his career was spent deployed with the customer to military bases, both ashore and afloat, domestically and internationally, giving him a unique understanding of customer requirements.

Mr. Griffing previously served on the Wings Over America Board of Directors from 2002 through 2010, completing his service as Board Chairman during his last two years. Currently he serves as a volunteer with the organization, working on golf tournament committees in San Diego and Jacksonville. Mr. Griffing was named WOASF Volunteer of the Year in 2012.

Mr. Griffing continues to serve on the National Board of Directors of the Navy League of the United States and is involved with the Navy League Hampton Roads Council, serving as Vice President of Development. He also is on the Board of Directors of the USO of Hampton Roads, Anchor Scholarship Foundation and Hampton Roads Naval Historical Foundation.
