2019 Scholarship Recipients at the West Coast Reception

We celebrated our scholars and their incredible achievements with scholarship awards receptions on both coasts. Recipients and their parents were able to meet the WOASF supporters—donors, volunteers, and board members—who give so much to the foundation and share their stories and plans for the future. It was an opportunity for relationship building that we hope will carry them through the years as they pursue their studies. As with every year, the task of selecting the recipients out of over 200 applicants whose academic and extra-curricular resumes were ALL outstanding was challenging. Our selection committee, made up of volunteers from the Naval Aviation community, had a difficult task, but they navigated our blind selection process beautifully. The 2019 scholarship recipients truly represent the BEST the Navy has to offer. With not only four-year college scholarships available but also scholarships for 2-year community colleges and trade schools, WOASF aims to provide the most options for our Navy dependents to help them reach their educational goals. The scholars we help today are our doers and thinkers of tomorrow. They are the engineers, scientists, teachers, actors, doctors and leaders of the future. WOASF scholars leave

This has been a year of great change for WOASF with the departure of the long-time Executive Director, Christine Wilson, and through this change, we have worked TOGETHER to come out even stronger. WOASF continues to grow and once again this has been the best year yet for the foundation. We awarded more money than ever before bringing our total awards to over $1.8 million! We not only awarded 50 scholarships this year to deserving students from across the country and overseas, but also 35 scholarships through our Administered Scholarship Partners. Additionally, this year we began a partnership with The Wingman Foundation to provide named scholarships honoring fallen heroes of the Navy Aviation community to our dependent children and spouses. We can think of no better memorial to their lives and the sacrifices they made.

Being the recipient of a Wings Over America and Maritime Patrol Association scholarship makes me feel even more connected to the best part of the Navy. Receiving these scholarships is also very humbling because of the generosity of so many people and organizations.

Weekend For Wings 2019

After last year's record-breaking weekend, how could it be possible to even come close to the generosity shown by all the participants that weekend? Not only did this year's Weekend for Wings come close, it surpassed last year! Due to the hard work of our volunteer team and the overwhelming generosity of the community of WOASF supporters, OVER $100,000 was raised. The monsoon-like weather the day before the tournament didn't deter golfers who were rewarded with beautiful weather on the day. This year's festive Happy Hour at McP's was the largest in recent years, and In Midlife Crisis blew us away at our concert.

Vincent Aiello, our announcer, did a magnificent job keeping the evening running. Pictured here with Beth Aiello.

Everyone's a Winner at the Wine Wall!

2019 VB Basket Bonanza

The annual Basket Bonanza was a huge success through the generosity of all the participants. With over 50 baskets, incredible live auction items with bids coming over the phone and a record-breaking $15,800 Paddle Raise, there was no shortage of fun and camaraderie as money was raised for scholarships! Thanks to our incredible volunteers and donors, the Basket Bonanza was our largest East Coast fundraiser.

An amazing donation from Fanatics!

WOASF Volunteers are Making a Difference!

It is not an overstatement to say that WOASF volunteers are the life's blood of the organization. These men and women devote time, energy, mind-space and dollars to make our events more and more successful every year to support the mission of providing scholarships to our Navy dependents. They donate hundreds of hours as the event planners, graphic designers, web-techs, fund-raisers, publicists, managers and organizers for WOASF. None of this happens without them. While we celebrate ALL our volunteers, this year there were a few that went above and beyond. Volunteers of the Year are Chuck and Amy Baker in Oklahoma who organized and ran the Oklahoma golf tournament for WOASF and Madori Gray, Stephanie Holsey, and Christina Slentz for managing the WFW in Coronado.

THANK YOU!!

Golf is in the Air

WOASF supporters dusted off their clubs and came out for golf across the country this spring. With tournaments in Coronado, Oklahoma and Virginia Beach, golfers brought their skills to the course. Generosity ran high with new sponsors and prize donors getting in on the action to raise money for scholarships.

Though rain threatened to ruin the day with each, the weather turned out to be beautiful on every occasion. A huge THANK YOU to all who participated. Keep those clubs swinging and get ready for next year!

Letter from the Chairman

Dear Sponsors and Friends,

The Wings Over America Scholarship Foundation continues to effectively fulfill its mission to provide scholarships to deserving families of Navy Aviation. I am very proud to report that we awarded or administered 85 scholarships in 2019 worth over $250,000.

Our families face many difficulties during the course of a Navy career. Constant moves place dependent students in tough circumstances; new schools in different states with particular high school graduation requirements, having to endure sports tryouts all over again, and often not being eligible for community scholarships. WOASF is a vitally needed vehicle providing a more level table for Navy dependent students seeking college tuition financial assistance.

The foundation exceeded its funding raising goals this year thanks to your generosity. Under the able leadership of our new Executive Director, Andrea Diamond, and with the guidance of our skilled Board of Directors, we established new relationships with The Wingman Foundation and the Wendell and Doris Rogers Foundation, both wonderful organizations. Our future is indeed bright.

This will be my last message in this newsletter as the Chairman of WOASF. It has been my honor to work with our very capable staff and board, true professionals and dedicated advocates all. Retired Vice Admiral Denby Starling has agreed to step up to plate as the new Chairman. We could not be in better hands.

Thank you for your support whether it was donations or time or both. My best wishes to all of you for a safe and enjoyable summer.

Rich O'Hanlon

VADM Michael D. Malone, USN (Ret.)

VADM Mike Malone, USN (Ret) made his Last Take Off on 20 June 2019. Mike was born in Brooklyn, New York, and grew up in Farmingdale eventually attending Chaminade High School, an all-boys prep school in Mineola, New York. Mike met his wife-to-be Janet Freer during their grade school days, and they were married upon his graduation from the United States Naval Academy in 1970. His graduate education included the Navy Nuclear Propulsion Program, and studies at the Naval War College, Harvard University and George Washington University.

Mike commanded VFA-136, USS Kansas City (AOR-3), USS Enterprise (CVN-65), and Carrier Group 8. He served as Commander, Naval Air Force US Atlantic Fleet and Commander, Naval Air Force US Pacific Fleet, becoming the second Commander, Naval Air Forces as the Air Boss. In addition to his tours with VA-97, where he was a “must pump” input at the end of the Vietnam War, VA-174 as an Instructor Pilot and Weapons Instructor, and VA-12 as Operations Officer as well as Maintenance Officer in USS Dwight D Eisenhower (CVN-69), Mike served as a Company Officer at the United States Naval Academy, Flag Aid at Commander Carrier Group Seven, XO of USS Abraham Lincoln, Executive Assistant to the CINC, and Deputy J-5 as well as Deputy Commander, Southern Watch at US European Command in Stuttgart, Germany.

During his tours as Type Commander, Mike Malone became involved in an effort to assist Naval Aviation to operate in a more efficient and cost-effective manner, and the “Naval Aviation Enterprise” was established. With COMNAVAIRFORCES as lead, the NAE also includes the Naval Air Systems Command and the Director of Air Warfare in the Office of the Chief of Naval Operations. Mike retired from active service in August 2004. During his 34 years of active service, Mike accumulated 3900 flight hours and 746 carrier arrested landings. His awards include the Navy Distinguished Service Medal, 5 Legion of Merit awards, the Meritorious Service Medal, and numerous unit and campaign awards and ribbons.

After retirement, Mike joined Skarven Enterprises and served as President, guiding the small company to unprecedented growth culminating in the company being acquired by The Boeing Company in 2008. He served on several boards for a variety of companies and was part of an effort to assist Naval Aviation in solving readiness and maintenance issues.

Mike was also an accomplished chef, enjoyed playing golf, and loved traveling with his wife and grandkids. Mike Malone was bright, principled, fiercely loyal and a loving family man. He impacted many people during his life and made a significant impact on Naval Aviation.

The VADM Michael and Janet Malone Scholarship

Mike and Janet Malone have been mainstays of Wings Over America Scholarship Foundation since before Janet became President of the foundation in 2001. During her tenure, the foundation, which was Wings Over the Atlantic at the time, solicited corporate donations and created its first investment account when the foundation received its first large donation of $50,000 establishing the CAPT Neil Kinnear Scholarship. At a time when awards were $1,000 each, the Kinnear scholarship would be $3,000 and the largest award the foundation would give for the next 16 years. Janet expanded the foundation's efforts to the west coast when Mike became COMNAVAIRFOR. As Wings Over Atlantic underwent a name change to become Wings Over America Scholarship Foundation and continued to grow, Mike and Janet were unwavering supporters and ambassadors for the foundation's mission. In 2009 Mike joined the Board of Directors as the foundation began increasing the scholarship award amount. His guidance on the finance committee and then as Chairman from 2011-2014 helped bring the foundation to where it is today. Mike supervised the creation of WOASF's first Strategic Plan that outlined a steady increase of scholarship award amounts to close the gap in increasing tuition. He expanded fund-raising efforts to Jacksonville, FL with a new golf tournament and resumed the San Diego golf tournament which has become a part of WOASF's largest fund-raising event, The Weekend for Wings. Mike coordinated partnerships with Navy League and Tailhook, and encouraged further education of the staff to bring best non-profit practices to WOASF. For over two decades Mike and Janet have been advocates for WOASF and will forever be remembered as champions for the dependents of Naval Aviation.

We are pleased to announce the Malone family would like to establish the VADM Michael and Janet Malone Scholarship to honor Mike and Janet's commitment to changing lives through education. Donations may be made in his memory to Wings Over America Scholarship Foundation (WOASF) for the VADM Michael and Janet Malone Scholarship. Donations can be mailed to 770 Lynnhaven Parkway, Suite 155, Virginia Beach, VA 23452 or made online at WingsOverAmerica.us

“Receiving this scholarship will open many doors for me. The cost of tuition continues to rise; however, the education and experience I will receive at college are invaluable. Thanks to this scholarship, the financial burden of a college education has been significantly reduced. As a child in a family of six, this will certainly help my parents as well, for they intend to help all of my siblings to achieve their dream of attending a university. I am incredibly grateful to have been awarded this scholarship, and I intend to take full advantage of the opportunities it has provided me.”

The Wingman Foundation Sponsors Memorial Scholarships

Through an extremely generous donation, WOASF has partnered with The Wingman Foundation to provide eight $5,000 memorial scholarships to honor our Navy aviation fallen heroes. The Wingman Foundation, established in 2014, is dedicated to providing immediate post-mishap support for the Navy and Marine Corps Aviation communities and their families. WOASF is proud to be a part of their commitment to ensuring our fallen heroes are never forgotten with the establishment of these eight scholarships and look forward to a lasting relationship with the foundation. We remember and honor with Named Scholarships:

Endowed Renewable Scholarship Program

Donors who wish to create a legacy celebrating or memorializing a loved one may establish an Endowed Renewable Scholarship that, for a donation of $125,000, is structured to award a named scholarship for a minimum of 30 years.

To establish the endowment, a donor will notify WOASF of their intent to fund an endowed scholarship. Once notified, the foundation will establish a standalone account to contain the funds. The account will be named as the donor desires. Donations to an endowed scholarship can be made in any amount and the scholarship will be considered "fully funded" when the account value reaches $125,000. Donors will have a maximum of five years to reach this goal.

WOASF will not fundraise for any specific endowed scholarship but will advertise all endowed scholarship funds in the WOASF newsletter and on the WOASF website.

The endowed scholarship is intended to be renewable but can be modified to award annual scholarships at the specific request of the establishing donor.

WOASF is proud to announce the Wendell and Doris Rogers Scholarship Fund as our first Endowed Renewable Scholarship.

More information about endowed scholarships: Andrea Diamond at 757-228-3314

All donors of $1000 or more are invited to the Scholarship Awards Reception June 2020 in either Norfolk or Coronado (donor's choice).
