My education is everything to me. Knowing that I am able to attend a great university and work towards my life goals makes me ecstatic. The Wings Over America Scholarship means so much to me, as it provides me with the knowledge that more people believe in my success and are providing me with resources to help me stay in school. The cost of an education is something that many students struggle with, so I know what a privilege and opportunity receiving this scholarship is, and I plan to make the most of it here at Syracuse University. Being at Syracuse University has been an amazing experience. The Whitman School of Management has unparalleled resources to help students get the education they need and to jumpstart their careers, and the relationships I have made here are outstanding. Degrees in business analytics and accounting open so many doors in the professional world, many of which I have already been exposed to here at Syracuse. Knowing that foundations like the Wings Over America Scholarship Foundation believe in my education makes me all the more determined to put my best foot forward at school and in life. Ultimately, this scholarship means that I am able to continue my education at a place that I love, studying what I'm passionate about.
