As the son and grandson of two naval aviators, this scholarship allows me to recognize and appreciate my family’s legacy while pursuing and creating my own. Although I do not aspire to become a naval aviator, I know that I will always have the utmost respect for such a demanding yet honorable choice of career. As I continue to study and work towards my goal of working in the medical field, I thank everyone for their impact on my life including my family and friends within the Naval Aviation Community, especially VADM “Sweet Pea” Allen and his family.
