

Maritime Patrol Association Scholar

Lauren Trumbull

Orange Park, FL

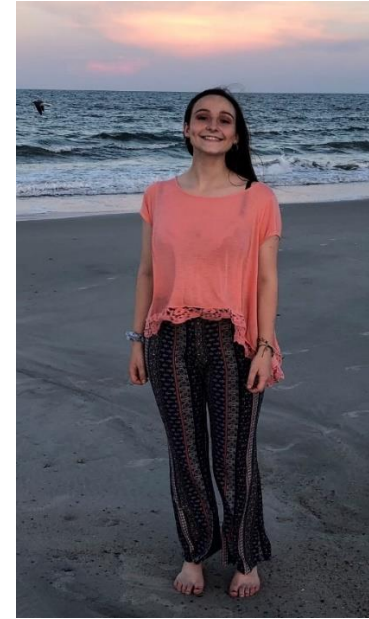

College: University of South Florida - Tampa

2020-2021: Sophomore

Major: Integrative Animal Biology

Extracurricular & Community-Service Highlights:

English Honor Society, Rho Kappa, Swim and Dive Teams, volunteer with St. Vincent DePaul, Kennel Tech at Chimney Lake Animal Hospital.

Being in a Navy family has been both incredibly rewarding and incredibly difficult. My dad is currently stationed in Whidbey Island, Washington, which is on the opposite side of the country from where I go to school in Tampa, Florida. Not being close to my parents during my first year of college has proved to be difficult. However, the Navy has done so much for my family, and has provided us with many opportunities that we would not otherwise have. To me, receiving this scholarship signifies the hardships and benefits of being part of a Navy family. In the future, I hope to attend veterinary school after graduating my undergraduate schooling with a degree in Integrative Animal Biology. This scholarship will help alleviate some of the financial burden I will have throughout my many years of schooling. I am so grateful to receive this scholarship and be a part of the Navy community.