

Marine Corps Aviation Memorial CAPT Jake “Red Stripe” Frederick Scholar

Chloe Leffler

Raleigh, North Carolina

Sponsor: CDR Brett Leffler

College: North Carolina State University

2024-2025: Senior

Major: Economics

Academic & Extracurricular Highlights:

- Society of Politics, Economics, and Law
- NCSU Catholic Campus Ministries Member
- Division I Women’s Soccer Student-Athlete
- Gardner-Webb University SGA Freshman Senator
- KAPI Pre-Law Pre-Professional Fraternity, Department head of Recruitment
- Activate Good Volunteer
- St. Paul’s Catholic Church Volunteer
- FEMA Relief Group- Hurricane Disaster Relief

Receiving a Wingman Foundation Marine Corps Aviation Memorial scholarship is a representation not only of the benefit of hard work but also the immense sacrifice that put me in this position to succeed. The short-term impacts of military life are easy to see and harshly felt. The long-term impacts are what forge exemplary character and develop individuals who are prepared for success. The privilege and gift of this scholarship is a physical manifestation of dedication not only from myself but from the entire military effort. The perseverance to continue giving and serving our community above and beyond the militaristic effort and into civilian life is what differentiates our country from others. This scholarship furthers my opportunity to pursue a higher education free of financial stress, as those who have served our country have given everything in order to maintain this freedom. This scholarship is more than just a scholarship, it is a symbol of the American desire to succeed and the ability to be allowed to do so.