Four-Year Renewable Scholarship Recipient
2016 Bachelor of Science in Psychobiology
University of California, Los Angeles

“After having completed my second year at UCLA, receiving this scholarship continues to grace my life. It means the world to me that I can spend time that would have to be devoted to earning a paycheck instead to pursuing my passions: Gamma Phi Beta, lacrosse, and research in psychology. I have the time to work hard academically, on the field, and in extracurricular activities because of the generosity of Wings over America. I am so very grateful to have these opportunities - to attend an incredible university and to be blessed with this scholarship and its impact upon my life here.” (2014)

“After graduating from UCLA in 2016 with a BS in psychobiology, I pursued a master's degree in nursing at USD. I was very lucky to land my dream job as a pediatric emergency department nurse and have been loving living and working back in our sunny hometown, San Diego. Apart from work, I enjoy spending time with my awesome nephews and niece, traveling (have been to Guatemala for a medical mission trip, Costa Rica for fun, and Utah/Colorado for snowboarding in the past couple years), hiking/running with my dog, Yogi and volunteering at a clinic in Solana Beach. Thank you SO much to Wings over America for supporting my education!” (2019)
