I was very excited to learn that I had received this scholarship. As a spouse living overseas with limited work opportunities this scholarship will provide significant financial support for my tuition this upcoming year. It allows me to continue to use my time to volunteer and participate in leadership activities in my community while pursuing my academic career. As a military spouse I think it is important to find a balance between supporting your partner in their service, taking care of your family and pursuing your own passions and what feeds your soul. This scholarship helps me in pursuing my dreams. I am very grateful for this scholarship.
