

Lockheed Martin- Business Development Scholar

Taylor Ulrich

Leonardtown, MD

Leonardtown High School

High School GPA: 4.37

University of California,
Los Angeles

Major: Tier 3 NROTC LREC

Activities:

- Habitat for Humanity Member
- National Honor Society
- Model United Nations
- Wind Ensemble, First Chair
- All-County Honor Band, 4th Chair
- Tri-County Honor Band, 6th Chair
- JV/Varsity Field Hockey, Captain
- Volunteer: 9th Grade English Tutor, church acolyte, Summer Reading Program at local library.
- Year-Round Lifeguard at College of Southern Maryland

I have worked extremely hard in high school and receiving this scholarship makes me feel like all that hard work has finally paid off! I am so excited to have been awarded this scholarship. It is truly an honor. This scholarship is a verification of all my accomplishments and encouragement to keep aiming high. This scholarship means a lot to me. My dad was a naval aviator for twenty years. He flew F-14 Tomcats and retired shortly after his plane was retired. I want nothing more than to become the first woman in my family to join the military. I want to fly just like my father. This scholarship; therefore, holds a lot of sentimental value.