Being selected as a Wings Over America Scholarship recipient for the first time was one of the proudest moments of my high school career. The second time around feels even sweeter. I am honored to have been selected again for this prestigious award. The price of higher education today is, as everyone knows, is prohibitively expensive. However, thanks to organizations such as the Wings Over America, attending one's dream school is an achievable goal. I am so thrilled to win again because it is another step in my college career, and one that makes college a more affordable, reasonable experience.
